Pre-K

In our Pre-K classroom this week, the children practiced with shape recognition while enhancing their fine motor skills making Rectangle collages! While working on their collages, the students discuss how many sides a rectangle has as well as how many corners! Gluing and pasting the rectangles onto their paper enhances their fine motor skills as well as their hand and eye coordination! This is a great math and art activity bundled into one!

Preschool

Our Pre-Schooler's stayed super busy this week with tons of fun hands on projects! Our kiddo's prepared for Valentine's Day and made home made clay that they shaped into hearts and then painted it with pink paint! A special gift from your little ones to you! Later in the week the students practiced their writing skills, letter, and number recognition. With some take home work they practiced the letter C and the number 1! Ms. Bertha was very excited to get the homework returned to her so she can practice with them further. Yesterday was a very exciting day for the three's because they got to bake a cake with Ms. Bertha! This was an awesome (and yummy) math and science experiment for the kids to do! The process of making the cake allowed them to talk about measurements and explore with different solids and liquids. Everyone took turns cracking the eggs and stirring the batter. They enjoyed their special treat with snack. Everyone was so proud of themselves for being such great helpers!

Toddlers

This week in the two's, our focus was learning all about the color pink with a focus on teapots and hearts! Ms. Raquel held a pretend tea party with her class where the children practiced pouring and sipping out of their tea cups! We also decorated our very own tea pots and tea cups! One of the kiddo's favorite activity to do this week was painting with the color pink while listening to music! The children used different objects to paint with such as: craft sticks, paint brushes, and sponges! While listening to music and engaging in a art activity, their creativity really came to life through their art work!

Cuddle Bugs

In the one's classroom this week Ms. Lynn has been getting her kiddo's all ready for Valentine's Day! The children have been learning about the heart shape and focusing on the colors pink and red. The kiddo's made heart shaped candy bags that they decorated. This activity was a super fun activity that focused on enhancing their fine motor skills. The children worked on picking up small and large pieces of paper and pasting them onto their heart shaped candy bag. Please remember to sign up for the Valentine's Day Party!

Parents:

Please always make sure that your children have extra clothes in their classroom cubby!

Enjoy Your Weekend!
